Boosts Douglas System For Economic Salvation Of Province of Alberta

Turn Community Into Joint Stock Company Is Suggestion

BAN ALL PROFITS
Give Every Adult Basic Dividend for Living Expenses

Turn the province of Alberta into a joint stock company, with all citizens as shareholders, was the suggestion of William Aberhart, of Calgary, addressing a large crowd of people in the Elks Theatre here Tuesday, July 25th, on the "Douglas system" of economics, which he offered as a substitute for present methods of doing business.

Mr. Aberhart, talked economics in words of few letters and one syllable to a large degree. His oratory was filled with metaphor and homely illustrations, and he held his crowd spellbound, swinging them from gloom to laughter at will.

"Money has become the tool of finance, and as long as you use money—they'll get you!"

"Beats all, when I promise you food, clothes and shelter for nothing, how scared you look—why don't you smile?"

were two of his striking phrases. Describing credit as the lifeblood of the community, which must circulate unimpeded if civic health were to be maintained, he said that under the Douglas system provision would be made for a continuous flow of credit, and all hoarding of wealth or credit banned. An automatic price control system eliminating all profits would be put into effect; and basic dividends given to all citizens to provide food, clothing and shelter necessary. The scale should be $20 a month for adults, and the rate could be changed at the end of any five-year period to suit conditions.

There would be no "public ownership" under the system, he said.

Citizens having money should buy four per cent government bonds repayable in credit, and with this money the government would pay off outstanding provincial debts. If this money proved inadequate, citizens may be called upon to transfer the cash surrender values on life insurance policies, etc. By these and similar means provincial and individual debts, he said, could be intelligently handled and ultimately entirely eliminated.

The province should provide as much work as possible for those who desire it. Salaries or wages for work done would be paid as now—but in provincial credit (not money), and would have to be spent by the end of the year, no hoarding being allowed. Taxes would be levied as usual, but would be greatly reduced by the abolition of interest and overhead.

Direction would be given by the government as to the products most needed, and producers and distributors would be allowed temporary supervised credit, or loans, while if a citizen wished to leave the province permanently, the government might arrange to pay his bonds when due, in Canadian money.

Local People Return From Motor Trip

Mr. Arthur Dupre and Mr. H. Messier, accompanied by their wives arrived home on Friday from a seven weeks motor tour of Eastern Canada and the United States. They spent a few days in Chicago at the World Fair. Arthur says he has been selling cars a good many years but never thought there were so many in the world as he saw in Chicago.

They visited in St. Bernard, Quebec, with Mr. Dupre's mother, who is 87 years old.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Messier found quite a change since their last trip which was made 21 years ago.

They report crops are better around Wainwright than any other place along their travels, which in all included over 4000 miles.

While creating records in exports to the United Kingdom, Canada is ambitious in lesser known lines. Canada and the Irish Free State were the only Empire exporters of cherries to the United Kingdom last year, mustering a modest 61 hundredweight between them. Again, Canada and South Africa were the only two Empire countries exporting peaches to the United Kingdom, Canada contributing just two hundredweight, evidently a gesture of good-will, and South Africa 29,980 hundredweight.

Above is an excellent close-up of Wiley Post, the Oklahoma aviator, who smashed his own record for a flight around the world, this time flying solo. Below is his famous plane, the Winnie Mae, the same ship in which he and Harold Gatty circled the globe two years ago. He stopped at Edmonton on his home journey.

Jury Blames Driver: On Wrong Side Of Road In Czar Auto Fatality

Held Inquest Thursday Into Death of McGregor Child

Karl Kirberg Czar Resident Is Committed For Trial

Following the inquest at Hughenden, Thursday, into the auto fatality near Czar, Wednesday, whereby Robert Ian McGregor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ian McGregor, Hughenden, was instantly killed, Karl Kirberg, of Czar, driver of one of the cars in the collision, was committed for trial on a serious charge. Pictures of the crash taken by police were shown to the jury at the inquest and were an important factor in the evidence.

"We the undersigned jury have arrived at a decision, and our verdict is that Robert Ian McGregor of Hughenden, Alta., came to his in a car accident through the negligence of Karl Kirberg, of Czar, Alta., in so far that he was driving on the wrong side of the road, when he collided with a car driven by Ian McGregor, in which deceased was a passenger."

The jury members were: D. A. Coultas, D. F. Otto, E. V. Key, R. P. Stubbs, Joe. Martineau and Bert Coffey.

This above was the verdict of the jury impaneled by Coroner W. O. York, of Provost.

Mrs. McGregor's evidence was to the effect that when she first saw the oncoming coupe, it was on the wrong side of the road. Her husband saw it, and turned to his own side of the road. When he saw the other car wasn't going to turn out, he turned sharply to the left, but it was too late then to avoid a collision.

After the crash, they were dazed for awhile, but a traveler came along and took them to Hughenden, where the doctor told them the baby was dead.

Ian McGregor stated that he drove in the middle of the road most of the way from Hughenden. Nearing Czar he saw a car coming on his right hand side, and he moved over to the right, expecting that the oncoming would pull out to his own side. A couple of seconds before the crash he tried to avoid a collision by turning to the left, but without success. The cars collided and seemed to double up. The windshield was broken and his wife, Miss McNally and himself were cut by the glass, as well as his young son, who was asleep on Miss McNally's knee.

Karl Kirberg the driver of the other car, admitted in evidence that he was on the wrong side of the road.

U.F.W.A. Picnic At King's Park Wed. July 19th

Despite the dreary weather on Wednesday afternoon an enjoyable picnic with a fare crowd was held in Kings Park.

Much interest was taken in the Horse shoe tournament which resulted as follows: 1st prize Mr. Jim Thompson and Mr. Johnson, Wainwright; 2nd prize, Mr. S. Romo and Mr. N. Straus; 3rd prize Mr. W. Dalton and Mr. Anderson.

A continual procession of ladies and also gentlemen frequented the tea room during the afternoon and much credit is due to the fortune tellers, Miss Jean Gray and Miss Winnie Taylor for the success of that part of the entertainment.

Another feature was the swimming race. The water was very cold, but quite a number entered. Mr. Ralph King won 1st place and Mr. Jack Gregson 2nd in the mens race. The girls was won by Miss Doris Grey 1st and Miss Jean Gray 2nd. The boys race was won by Allen Taylor.

The members of the Avondale local wish to thank the score keeper. The swimming race committee and all others who helped to make the afternoon a pleasant and successful one also wish to thank Mrs. King for the use of the park.

MacKenzie King To Speak Here Thurs., Aug. 10

Word has been received that the Hon. Lyon Mackenzie King will speak in Wainwright, August 10th, in the interest of the Liberal Party. Many who have had the pleasure of hearing him speak before look forward to his coming here. Apart from his splendid oratorical style, his logic is convincing and pleasing.

Mr. Mackenzie was born in Berlin, Ont., Dec. 17th, 1874; was educated at Toronto University and University of Chicago, taking his M.A. at Harvard University. He was editor of the Labor Gazette for eight years. In 1908 he was elected to the House of Commons and appointed Minister of Labor of Canada.

It will be interesting to hear the plans and platform of this gentleman, especially when every party, new and old, is putting on its best now that there is a shadowy possibility of an election.

The C.C.F. Idea On Private Property

"But he says that if the C.C.F. idea doesn't mean abolition of private property, it doesn't mean anything at all. I do not take that meaning out of it. It is my understanding that private property is to be increased on the consumption side, property we live on goods we consume, clothes we wear, all these commodities will be increased for us not abolished or diminished."

"It is on the production side where we want to make property the common property of the state. We want all the people to own the means of production. It isn't the land which the farmer occupies and uses himself. It isn't the homes we occupy which are to be taken away from us. But there is a tendency in certain quarters today to dress up a scarecrow to frighten the people, and this is one of them, the fear of the abolition of private property."

Little Helpers Lend Aid To Rally Success

On Friday afternoon, July 21st, the Little Helpers of St. Thomas' Church held their annual Rally. This was a little earlier than usual owing to one of the number leaving town. The Junior W.A. also attended the service. A simple little talk was given by the vicar after which the little tots took their offerings up the aisle and gave them to the Vicar who placed them on the Altar, after the Offering had been sung.

After the service, parents and children adjourned to the Vicarage where tea was served. Hostesses were Mrs. George Arlwright, Little Helpers Secretary; Mrs. H. Bradley, Junior Superintendent and Mrs. C. N. Bateman. Games were enjoyed for a while, after which Hazel Armstrong was presented with a very pretty mesh purse and the best wishes of her fellow members in her new home.

Norman Armstrong was presented with a book of Bible Stories from the Little Helpers Secretary. On Friday evening Monroe Armstrong was presented with a Prayer Book and a Story Book from the Sunday School.

Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong and family will be greatly missed at St. Thomas, and the congregation wish them every happiness in their new venture.

Ribstone Farmer Died Suddenly on Monday Evening

Coroner Awaits Word From Analyst
On Death Cause

Gordon McCagherly, 28, a Ribstone young man employed on the farm of Frank Reinhardt, of that district, died suddenly Monday evening under peculiar circumstances, and word is being awaited from the provincial analyst at Edmonton, to decide whether or not an inquest will be necessary.

According to information furnished to the local coroner, Dr. W. O. York, McCagherly, while pumping water after supper Monday, was taken violently ill, and vomited a great deal. Later at the barn, where he was helping his employer fix a door, he took the latter. "I came pretty near dying."

Shortly after the completion of the door fixing job, he was again seized with a fit of vomiting, and died in two minutes.

Death may possibly have been due to acute indigestion, in the opinion of the coroner, who however had the contents of the stomach sent to the University for analysis, and is awaiting the result.

McCagherly is well known in the north district, his parents and relatives being residents of the vicinity.

THE WAINWRIGHT FAIR

The splendid crops in this district and the hope for a stable, decent price for wheat, will give the Wainwright Fair a splendid start on August 8-9. When the two-day show opens its gates, and if the weather men co-operate with the directors, this year's Fair will bring the largest crowd ever.

The Wainwright Agricultural Society directors, to whose efforts we owe the Fair, are men from the town and district, who devote time and energy year after year to arranging and staging the annual exhibition. Their contribution to this district is outstanding. The Fair distributes hundreds of dollars on prize money, the greater part of which is spent in this town and district and draws those who would not come if it were not for the Fair. Apart from the financial advantage to the business interests of the town, the Fair is a valuable means of fostering the knowledge of and interest in livestock among the younger generation in whose hands the success of the farming operations of this district will ultimately rest.

The splendid showing of stock and other exhibits, the first-class racing program and other interesting features will make this Fair well worth seeing. It deserves the whole-hearted support of every resident of the town and district. Let's see that it gets it.

DON'T GAMBLE IN WHEAT!

The wheat market is a gamble always under normal conditions. Shrewd and well-informed men spend a lifetime studying weather conditions and crop prospects, not in one country but in a score. When they gamble in wheat they have at their command all the knowledge they can gather, all the experience and all the shrewdness at their command. And even then they are right only part of the time.

Now, on top of all the normal hazards, there is the question of exchange and inflation. It is a vitally important factor, because at least 30 per cent of the advance in wheat prices has been due to inflation of the United States dollar.

It complicates the wheat market to such an extent that many able and experienced operators are keeping out of the market altogether. They are afraid of it.

The amateur speculator—the sucker— isn't afraid. He sees a bull market and he rushes in to buy. He doesn't know enough about the factors involved to be afraid. Wheat prices have risen from a low of 40 cents a bushel to nearly 90. He takes it as a matter of course that they will keep on climbing. So he rushes in.

There is a very lively prospect that he will buy nothing but experience with his money.

The public—which is the trade name by which the suckers are known—always buys. Wheat may go up. It does not follow that the public will make money. On the contrary, they are just as likely to lose if wheat goes up as if it goes down.

The public never gets in at the right time. More important still, it never gets out at the right time. One in a hundred may win—and that is a generous estimate.

Great Bear Lake Gold Finds Encourage

While there are fabulous returns from assays of other minerals found in the Great Bear Lake district, there are always those who get most of their mining "kick" out of gold.

Last season there were reports of gold strikes, and it is confidently predicted that as the country is more minutely prospected, there will be finds of more or less importance.

In the report of the work of the geological survey carried on in that portion of the Dominion under F. D.

Kidd, he only had the opportunity of going over the Oro Group, at Labina Point, with any degree of thoroughness.

The discovery lies about 1000 feet inland from a point on the mainland shore, south-east of the south end of a prominent narrow island formed of a vein of quartz. It is west of a narrow, northeast trending lake, locally called explorer's lake. The place is close to the contact of quartz-mica gneiss with other rocks of the complex to the south.

On the edge of a drift-filled gully the borders of a band a few feet wide of pinkish brown, fine grained rock with scattered pink feldspar and glauy quartz grains up to one-quarter inch across, are exposed. On each side of the band is massive, medium grained, brown and gray diorite or granodiorite.

On the northwest side a 1 to 2-inch quartz vein cuts the diorite and can be traced 75 feet to where the fissure narrows to a tight crack. It is stated grains of gold as large as a grain of wheat are found in this vein. The quartz is milky, white to brown in color and contains pyrite and chalcopryrite. No gold was seen. In the north-east trending gully three other veins the largest one foot in width, are visible. It is stated gold can be upanned from one of them.

On the claims staked by J. Borthwick on Cassell River, Dr. Kidd says in pyrite forming a one-quarter inch seam, in a small fracture, and occurring bits of the waif-rock, of this seam on the How claim, are reported by the discoverer to assay $4 in gold.

Gold was also reported to have been discovered, in 1932 in two places in Echo Bay area, to the south of Spark Plug lake; and one mainland, east of Mystery Island but the government geological party did not have time to visit them.

Referring to the prospecting chances for gold, Dr. Kidd says as yet

Little is known of its mode of occurrence. At the reported gold discovery, seen the quartz is usually brownish and milky and is accompanied by pyrite and chalcopryrite.

Montreal, Que., July 25—A huge shipment of New Zealand hides is the first fruits of a co-operative effort between the New Zealand Government and the Canadian Manufacturers' Association in an endeavor to stimulate trade between the two Dominions. The hides have arrived in the Canadian National freighter "Canadian Lader." Hides were formerly brought largely in South American countries. Canadian National freighters in the Antipolean service in exchange are now loading a varied cargo of Canadian merchandise.

LAW FOR THE RICH AND THE POOR?

The Editor,
Wainwright Star,
Wainwright, Alberta.

Dear Sir,
Some people think that Judge Stubbs of Winnipeg lost his place on the bench because he said that there was a law for the rich and a law for the poor. He might have been right or wrong but I was just wondering if there are laws of this sort in the Town of Wainwright.

I heard that not long ago a man who was trying to make an honest living and keep himself from being a burden on the community, was obliged to pay a license fee of fifty dollars to deliver milk and after paying his fee was ordered to remove his milk house and three cows to the outskirts of the Town. It was urged that the cows were offensive to this restricted area. But strange to relate that one of the parties instrumental in having brought about this convenience has several horses close to his own home. The one man had to have the cows to make a living and the other had horses for convenience or pleasure. Mr. Editor, what do you think of this? Does it seem fair to you?

A TAXPAYER.
NOTE.—I know nothing of this matter at the moment. It would be well for you to get both sides of the story.

Editor.
